Academic Project

AUTOMATED VEHICLE VIBRATION DETECTOR AND CONTROLLER

Description:

As the vehicle engine speed increases, consequently the vibrations in the vehicle also gets increased. In fact the vibration produced due to the engine speed in a vehicle is vary disadvantageous which in turn decreases the life time of the vehicle parts. And also makes the passenger travelling in the vehicle discomfort. so, we control the engine speed by using a microcontroller which decelerates the engine, which in fact the vibrations are get reduced. Also, by c this system, we can decrease the speed of the engine on purpose to decrease the accidents.
